

My little Guardian angel book

Guardian angels and their function to watch over us.

Guardian angels are beings of pure light and guarding our life and soul during its period from birth to death. As they watch over us and are at every moment in life our protection, our watch over lifetask.

Guardian angels are beings that are invisible and without name or form, but yet they guard us with their omniscience and their will not being able to harm us.

As guardians watch over us they give us the opportunity to fulfill tasks, to heal us and to have karma at the good side.

As they are above religion, one can say it's always in the good part of life. And when they guard us in our permission they can do everything.

To give a guardian permission to lead to guard and to do everything is already giving them the key to its life and soul.

A guardian angel is more than just a being, it's made of pure eternal light, and without any interest other than leading us.

A guardian can be an entrance into a religion or faith and grant access to a good and just life.

As they are invisible they themselves cannot be tempted.

As a guardian is appointed from birth to death, they know about our full life including all our wishes, our good deeds, and all things that are part of our life.

They say when you turn to goodness and uphold law that life may be filled with blessing.

As to have a guardian is to allow them to guard our lifetask and to have them hold doors open to have in life the blessing. As their gift is to compensate our weakness, to grant us wealth, and to have them give that inner bond that our life is worthy. As well the soul of our lives is safe in their hands.

The knowledge about a guardian can be in life the bond of light and the bond of wisdom about our life.
